CITAC events in Construction Month

November was an eventful month for CITAC. The following three signature events were held with great success:

- ▶ CITAC Anniversary Conference on Construction Digitalisation
- ▶ SciTech Challenge 2020 Finale
- ▶ CITAC x Israel Construction Technology Conference and B2B Session

CITAC shall continue to organise various events to connect the innovative minds across all disciplines around the globe.

If you missed out, don't worry! All i-Club individual members can now replay the event's recording online. Staff of i-Club organisation members are encouraged to register as i-Club individual members to enjoy this benefit.

Modular Integrated Construction

Task Force on Construction Digitalisation

The captioned task force was established under the CITAC Management Board and convened its first meeting on 17 December 2020. The task force is comprised of industry experts and representatives from government bureaux, construction-related professional institutes, associations and organisations, academia and subject experts. Work has been started with a vision to streamline and digitalise all processes involved in the build-asset lifecycle so as to continuously improve the productivity and safety for construction process, and sustainability for better quality of life. In the roadmap, quick wins, medium to long-term goals on construction digitalisation will be developed aiming to empower Smart Hong Kong.

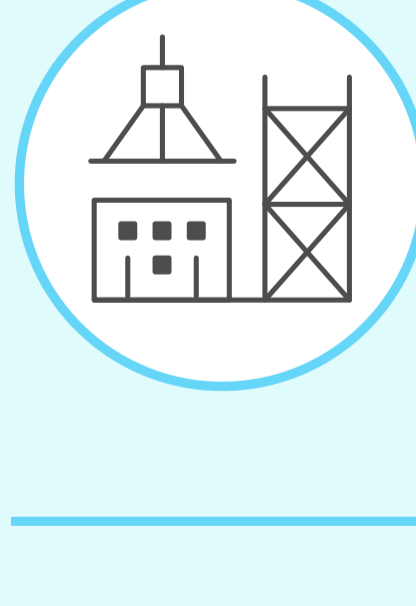

HKIA x CIC Logo & Trophy Design Competition

The Construction Industry Council (CIC) will be organising 4 Awards, viz. the "CIC Construction Innovation Award", "CIC Sustainable Construction Award", "CIC Construction Digitalisation Award" and the "CIC Outstanding Contractor Award" in the coming years, with the aims of recognising those with outstanding contributions to their fields and promoting the professionalism of the construction industry and its practitioners to the public.

The CIC is joining hands with the Hong Kong Institute of Architects (HKIA) to co-organise a "HKIA x CIC Logo & Trophy Design Competition". HKIA Members and full-time architectural and design students in Hong Kong are invited to join the Competition.
